Congressional Black Caucus
Domestic Policy Leadership Team

Congresswoman Joyce Beatty of Ohio, Chairwoman of the Congressional Black Caucus (CBC), has announced the 117th Congress #Our Power, Our Message platform advancing the new Domestic Policy Leadership Team and Policy Co-Chairs along with a series of related member leadership roles. The new initiative builds on the CBC's commitment to utilizing legislative power, messaging, and leveraging community partnerships, and historic alliances to build on the work of its 13 founders who messaged "we refuse to be part of the audience."

The historic and diverse 58 CBC Members will be showcased in a variety of substantive roles to use their expertise to address issues facing Black America. The Domestic Policy Leadership Team and Policy Co-Chairs will work to develop and advance domestic policies that improve the condition of Black people and communities and bring racial justice and equity to a system that has plagued Black Americans for generations. Additionally, a series of CBC Special Order Hours will be used as a powerful tool to message, highlight, and call to action the work of the Policy Co-Chairs, and ultimately advance and leverage, Our Power, Our Message.

The Domestic Policy Leadership Team will provide overarching steering and policy guidance and direction as the Policy Co-Chairs provide insight and guidance on specific policy areas, drawing on the extensive knowledge and expertise of our CBC subject matter experts.

As envisioned, the CBC Domestic Policy Leadership Team, in conjunction with the Policy Co-Chairs, will work with the Biden-Harris Administration and U.S Senate in aggressively charting a path forward in building strong and inclusive domestic policy, budget priorities and related programs which directly address the needs and concerns of Black America.

CBC Members appointed to the Domestic Policy Leadership Team and Co-Chairs represent the diversity of the CBC as relates to geography, ideology, and length of House tenure.
